LONGSHOREMEN ASK PAY INCREASE

Union Points to War Effort in Wage Bid

Officers Say Dockmen Face Rate, Cite Higher Taxes, Bonds, Relief Aid.

West Coast longshoremen will ask an increase in pay.

This was made known to the West Coast Maritime Industry Board.

The ILWU Dispatcher went to press, by President H. R. Bridges, who said the shipowners were being notified that the union intended to take up the matter of a wage increase through the Coast Negotiating and Labor Relations Committees.

BRIDGES STATEMENT

"Shipowners will no doubt contend that West Coast longshoremen already received an increase of 15 per cent since January 1, 1942," Bridges said. "But longshoremen have been making a tremendous contribution through increased output to Allied War Relief, purchase of war bonds and stamps, not to mention the thousands of dollars worth of labor which went into the loading of the thousands of ships.

"We will ask an increase in the interest of national stabilization for longshoremen's work, and as a part of the war effort we will move for the increase with all possible speed."

MANY NOTABLES GREET PAPER

Initiates of The ILWU Dispatcher as the official newspaper of the International Longshoremen's & Warehousemen's Union has drawn enthusiastic well wishes from high CIO officials and other national leaders.

"The Congress of Industrial Organizations is very proud of the splendid manner in which the members of the ILWU are wholeheartedly supporting our country's war effort, and doing everything within their power to speed the handling of cargo, both at the docks and in the warehouse, for our armed forces and those of our allies," wrote President Philip Murray of the CIO.

War greetings came also from Sidney Hillman, general president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, United States Senator Claude Pepper, Joseph Curran of the National Maritime Union, Reid Robinson of the International Union of Mine, Mill & Smelter Workers and many others, and messages were still pouring in as the paper went to press.

Corporations Profit By 2 Billion Dollars

NEW YORK—(FP)—America's 25 largest manufacturing corporations, excluding copper and oil companies, increased their assets to 12,700 million dollars in 1941, an increase of 2,000 million dollars over 1940, according to the National Industrial Conference Board, an employer organization.

The drive is spreading to other box firms where war production is hampered by low wages, bad conditions and lack of labor-management cooperation.

A New Voice for Fighting Tradition

MURRAY

Following are the texts of messages of congratulations to the International Longshoremen's & Warehousemen's Union on publication of the ILWU Dispatcher.

Philip Murray
President of the Congress of Industrial Organizations

Greetings to the officers and members of the International Longshoremen's & Warehousemen's Union on publication of the ILWU Dispatcher.

R. J. Thomas
President, United Automobile, Aircraft, Transportation and Grain Mill Workers' Union of America

I wish to congratulate the ILWU Dispatcher all the success in the world.

Sidney Hillman
General President, Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America

I am sure your new paper will be a booster in the field of organization and I want you to wish you all success in this work.

John F. O'Connor
President, Local 1-10, ILWU

I congratulate the International Longshoremen's & Warehousemen's Union on its new official organ. The ILWU Dispatcher will be a tremendous contribution to the good work you are accomplishing.

Sidney W. Healy
President, Local 106, ILWU

The United Federal Workers of America welcomes the launching of "The ILWU Dispatcher."

H. R. Bridges
President, Inland Boatmen's Union

The story of the ILWU's dispatchers is one of the war effort through the speeding up of cargo for delivery to our fighting fronts. We are sure that the ILWU Dispatcher will further enhance the regular appearance of a new organ of our own.

Sidney W. Healy
President, Local 106, ILWU

The ILWU Dispatcher, re...
The record of Harry Bridges, select leader of thousands of longshoremen who fought back so long ago, entitles him to relief from the personal consequences of his unions' activities in the past seven years. The case of Harry Bridges is a vital issue of great public signifi-

years ago when the United Nations was the key, the whole world was fighting for a better world where everyone could live in peace and harmony. But today, the world is facing a different kind of conflict—one that threatens to tear us apart. Harry Bridges, a leader of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union (ILWU), has been accused of several crimes and is facing deportation. But the ILWU believes that Bridges is innocent and should be allowed to stay in the United States.

Harry Bridges has been fighting for the rights of workers for many years. He has been a leader in the labor movement and has fought for better wages, safer working conditions, and the right to unionize. He has been a tireless advocate for workers' rights and has been a vocal opponent of the government's deportation policy.

The ILWU has filed a petition to stop Bridges' deportation and has called for a fair and impartial hearing. The ILWU believes that Bridges should be allowed to stay in the United States and continue to fight for workers' rights.

But the government's deportation policy is threatening to undermine the rights of workers all over the world. It is time for the government to recognize the importance of workers' rights and to work towards a better world for all.

The ILWU is calling on all workers to stand up and fight for their rights. We must stand together to ensure that the government respects the rights of workers everywhere.
The Problem Corner

Anna Broods As Job Irks Family

By STEFFIE

The problem corner is for the women of the ILWU, whether they be members or wives of members or sisters of members. The men are not barred from participating.

In brief, the idea is this: A problem of common interest, caused by many inflammations on the home front, raised many new women of the ILWU, whether mothers or sisters of members. It is the problem of Anna.

Anna Has a Problem

Anna is a life-long friend of mine, who until the war broke out was living in a fairly happy state of maternity. The lovely little girl took the household grind like a soldier.

When the war came, she soon realized that in the interests of her home and children, she must assume her proper place in the gigantic scheme of a nation fighting for survival and freedom. Little Mike was entrusted to the care of a nursery. Martha, the older one, learned to prepare her own lunches and to assume partial household duties and Anna, herself, enlisted as a helper in one of our many shipyards.

DILEMMA DISHES

Things went smoothly until the day she was fired. Anna's husband began to grow sour over the phases of his home life. He refused to help with the dishes at night; it was an eye-sore to him. He grew up round, too many makeshift meals—and all because of this job which was to turn within herself, brood and generally resent him.

Now, the fires of marital conflict are smoldering. It will be the task of the Problem Corner to provide a means of exchanging problems by discussing them frankly. If you have a problem, write it to me, stating it as briefly as possible. You need not sign your name. Initials, or even fictitious initials will do.

A STARTER

The letter will be printed as summarized, but not commented on or discussed until the following issue. Others who have solved a similar problem, or who have ideas for solutions will then be expected to contribute their letters to the discussion. It will be preferable if these letters are signed. Now, for a starter, I propose a problem which has not been sent in for the purpose, but about which I happen to know. Anna's problem is the means of getting the Problem Corner into action.

It is the problem of Anna.

Women on Christmas Job

NEW YORK—(FP)—Government must adopt an adequate program of child care so that mothers may be free to earn in war industries, said Pres. Michael J. Quill of the Amalgamated ILWU (CIO at a parents' conference here. Within the next six months, women will be expected to go into industry, Quill said.

"Women are ready to work because they abhor their children," he asserted. "In order to free women there must be public and private nursery schools and the government must appropriate the funds necessary." As has been done in England, he said, and must speed organization of the unorganized, most of whom are women.

Duarte Resigns as Organizer

Charles "Chili" Duarte, international board member of the ILWU, resigned this week as an international representative for personal reasons.

Duarte recently traveled extensively for the ILWU in Colorado and Utah. He is a former chairman of the Oakland division of Local 6 and for two years director of organization for the ILWU in Southern California.

He will return to Washington.

Cotton Compress Workers Wait for 12½% Increase

NEW ORLEANS—Eight hundred workers in the cotton press industry here are awaiting a ruling from the National Labor Board on their demand for a wage "increase of 12½ cents per hour following a 12½-hour hearing before a referee appointed by the board last week.

Confident that they have looked forward to the time when they may be given a 12½-cent wage increase, the workers have been working without pay throughout the week.

In their brief to the ILWU, the workers stated that the 12½-cent increase would have been reached had it not been for the "inordinate delays in the awarding of compress industry wages." The workers stated that they have been working without pay throughout the week.

Technical Delays SearS Bargaining

MINNEAPOLIS—A few months ago the employers and workers of the Sears, Roebuck Company in Minneapolis, Minn., were on the verge of a labor agreement. But the technical delays of the employers in the matter have caused a delay in the conclusion of the agreement.

The Sears, Roebuck Company, which is one of the largest employers in the country, has been negotiating with the workers for several months to reach an agreement. However, the negotiations have been delayed due to technical difficulties in the matter.

Locals Give War Relief $31,647

SAN FRANCISCO—Northern California and Alabama locals of the ILWU have given $31,647 to GIO American and Allied War Relief. The money was donated here by the local unions of the ILWU in the San Francisco area.

Building Speed Plus Victory

Written by Don R. Nealy, director of the ILWU's War Labor Board, a NWLB order said:

"Every pound of worry on Hitler's sagging flag is a pound of worry on our country's call for a 100 per cent participation in the savings bond drive. The women of the ILWU are giving their all to help America win the war."

War Toilers Go 100% ILWU

NEW ORLEANS—Workers at the cotton press plant in New Orleans, Louisiana, have voted 100 per cent for representation by the ILWU. The National Labor Relations Board has certified the ILWU as the bargaining agent for the employes of the cotton press plant in New Orleans.

California Cotton Oil Fires Union Leader

Los Angeles—Local 16, CIO, of the Southwestern California Cotton Oil Company, has discharged its elected union leader, a union organizer, for "insubordination".

The discharge was a result of a controversy between the company and the union over the company's failure to install a new press at the Union plant. The union had threatened to strike if the company did not install the new press.

The discharge was made by the company, and the union has filed a complaint with the National Labor Relations Board in Washington, D.C., charging the company with unfair labor practices.

Build Speed Plus Victory
A Plan for Victory

IN THE EAST, unemployment. On the West Coast acute management manpower. In one city surplus of essential commodities. In another, lines of people with money in hand begging to buy.

The government needs money and idle money gathers dust in bank vaults. Metals needed for warships and tanks go into extra bathrooms for people like Westbrook Pegler. Australian wine comes to San Francisco on one ship and California wine goes to Australia on another.

Conflicting orders fly from a myriad of agencies like pop bottles from the blenders. Steel arrives when wood is needed and all arrives when steel is needed. Contracts go to firms without equipment or plant, and companies geared to go wait for orders.

Couragously we attack the bottlenecks, patiently we attempt to correct the mistakes, piecemeal by piecemeal. But each mistake begets a whole brood of mistakes that grow and spread like a bottleneck choked the war effort and enfeebles it. Piecemeal corrections and revisions are meaningless.

CIO because it provides the machinery needed for a centralized economic plan. It would set up an Office of War Mobilization with three subordinate agencies to be known as the Office of War Supply, the Office of War Manpower and the Office of Economic Stabilization. A start, but only a start, in this right direction was made when the President placed selective service and manpower for production under one agency.

The CIO called also for "direct and full participation of labor—not through any advisory committee, but with labor given the highest responsibility in the formulation and execution of all policies and activities... Participation of labor in all the administrative agencies which make and execute our war policies—and at every level."

CLEARLY, the main job for every local of the ILWU right now is to press in every way possible to put the CIO recommendations into effect, to support by resolution and work—by rank and file work to arouse the people of their communities—the Tolpen-Pepper bill.

The war is on and on fast, in Africa and the Pacific, and, we hope, soon in Europe. The requirements of our armed forces are multiplying. We can no longer afford a single ounce of avoidable waste of any kind.

The survival of our nation and the survival of our union depend upon complete organization of the whole job. Put it on the agenda.
