When the employers, never letting human rights stand in the way of their profits, refused to agree to the demands of the striking workers, the Maritime Federation called a strike. The employers, who are described as "capitalist press attacks workers," responded by setting down the pickets and arresting those who refused to leave.

Another phase of the strike has revealed a pattern of thefts by "break strikers" during the picketing of the San Francisco waterfront. These thefts, which have taken place in several of the most active ports, have been reported to the authorities.

The strike is over and a new election will be held. The strikers will then be able to make the ship strike effective.

A full day's work for 11 cents, 50 hours of labor a week for $1.25—are these the wages being paid Southern women and children for making the $1.18-candle with backgrounds that have fundamentals in common—are being paid, in fact? A working woman is an alien, in a sense, in the community. She is at the mercy of her employer, and she is subject to exploitation. That is why the I.A.L.A., with its aid, is fighting for higher wages, shorter hours, and better working conditions for all women in the Gulf Coast region.

In Atlantic Coast, where the Gulf Coast women have been joined by the I.A.L.A., the strikers have established the right of women to organize and bargain collectively for their wages and working conditions.

In the Gulf Coast, the women have been joined by the I.A.L.A., which is fighting for higher wages, shorter hours, and better working conditions for all women in the Gulf Coast region.

The employers immediately saw that a strike by the women would make it impossible for them to carry on their business, and they began to make offers to the workers. The women, however, refused to accept these offers, and the strike continued.

In the meantime, the I.A.L.A. continued to support the strikers, and the women continued to work. The employers were forced to give in, and the strike was settled on favorable terms.

The women won their strike, and the I.A.L.A. was able to organize the women in the Gulf Coast region. This was a great victory for the working women of the Gulf Coast region, and it was a victory for the I.A.L.A., which is fighting for better working conditions for all women.

Huge War Industries

Flourish For Dupont

War industries are flourishing today as they have never flourished before. The Great War, bringing prospects of huge profits and dividends to the few fortunate stockholders of the war industries, has created a situation in which the workers are being exploited and denied their rights.

The war industries, controlled by a small group of stockholders, are reaping the profits of the war, while the workers are being exploited. The workers, who are doing the actual work, are paid a pittance, and their working conditions are terrible. The war industries are a substitute for fair wages and working conditions, and they are a menace to the country.

Women And Children

Exploited At Homes

In a single year, the number of children employed in the beet fields, and other industries, has increased from 759,300 to 5,939,000. This is a pall of gloom hanging over the American women, as the young workers are in a macabre mood.

The Child Labor Committee is asking for help in the ratification of the 100% Union record. The 100% Union record is a testament to the workers' struggle for better working conditions.

Salesmen Demand

Working Agreement

The employers and the workers have not come to an agreement yet. The employers have offered to pay higher wages, but the workers have rejected the offer. The workers are demanding a working agreement, and the employers are refusing to negotiate.

The situation is tense, and there is a possibility of a strike. The workers are determined to get a better working agreement, and they are not willing to accept anything less.

Women Denounce Owner Redrafting

At its latest meeting the auxiliary presented a strong resolution in redrafting a woman's strike for the Glacier and American companies. The resolution pointed out that the women had been neglecting the strike, and that the auxiliary was united upon and presented to the company that the women's strike was invalid. The resolution was carried without a division.

Strikers Hope To Construct Powerful List

The following resolution was brought to the membership of the National Maritime Union, and was adopted by a vote of 9 to 1.

"The National Maritime Union is determined to construct a powerful list of names. This list will be used as a tool for our continued struggle with the employers."

A Resolution

The resolution states that the union is committed to constructing a powerful list to be used in their ongoing struggle with the employers. The resolution is supported by a vote of 9 to 1.

Owners Cheat Tax

panies to pay any taxes on their respective properties in order to be in force until 1955.

In fact, there is no single trustworthy company operating vessels registered in California, pays any taxes on these vessels to the state, or to any city or county within the state.

So we have this picture: an international conspiracy to get vessels from the government for little or nothing. They secure a government subsidy in the form of a tax-free free license or permit. They then use these ships to make their business deals. They build and sell them the ships, allowing them twenty years of tax exemption from the state, or whatever is the case, for them, at an absurdly low rate of interest. If they are registered in California, no taxes are payable on them. How long is the public going to stand for this state of affairs? The unions would like to know.

Question: John or any other who knew the facts. I am not interested in the question of what interests are being served by the Pacific Coast boatmen. But there are interests who profit by keeping the waterways congested with strikes and other controversies. I want to know what is being served by keeping the waterways closed.

Answer: Well, I tell you this. The same thing that the boats are used for working and bringing in the product for the benefit of the public.

Question: Who do you mean by the public?

Answer: We see it as the public that we are serving.

Question: And just three examples of how the public is being served by this strike.

Answer: I know of no examples where the public has been served.
