MISTERY OF HOGAN’S DISAPPEARANCE BAFFLES I. L. A. OFFICIALS

Despite a barrage of stories and allusions, union leaders have failed to bring out the facts of the Hogan case. When the Voice went to press on the day after Hogan's disappearance, the only facts reported were that Hogan had boarded a plane heading for Chicago and had disappeared, leaving behind him no trace of his whereabouts. The Voice has been told by the Voice of the Federation that there is no evidence to support the theory that Hogan was shot or was suicides; and that there is no reason to believe that Hogan was a victim of murder or any other crime.

He was not really surprised that the D. A. We are not put another crew aboard,

But we would be disposed to find that the Voice of the Federation is not going to be in a position to fight back against the policy of the West Coast seamen and maritime workers. In this manner, the Voice of the Federation will be of service in bringing about a better understanding between people who stand for the same things.

Labor Bureaus to Elect Man to Washington

Central Bodies Unanimously for Congress

Backerfield, Calif., April 4—F. A. Mansfield, official of the A. F. of L. Pacific Coast Federation and past president of the International Longshoremen's Association, was chosen 300 votes to 123 Tuesday for the post of delegate to the 60th Congress of the American Federation of Labor. The convention was held in the Union auditorium.

The delegate will represent the American Federation of Labor on the national stage of politics, as its member, and will be responsible to the voters of this country, for the stand which he will take on the issues which arise.

The annual sessions of the American Federation of Labor will be held in Washington, D.C., at the same place that the International Labor Union held its sessions, in 1905.

The first session of the convention will be held on the 1st of the month, and the last session will be held on the 15th of the month, with a recess on the 10th of the month.

The delegates to the American Federation of Labor meet every three months, and are elected by the members of the organization in each state, and are chosen by the members of the local unions in each state.

The American Federation of Labor is the largest labor organization in the United States, with over 2,000,000 members, and is the largest labor organization in the world. It is the only labor organization in the world that has the power to make laws.

It is the duty of the American Federation of Labor to make laws for the benefit of the members of the organization, and to make laws for the benefit of the workers in general.

UNION REACHED

Mixtura Sent to All Western Outfitters

From N.Y.

A letter asking West Coast waterfront unions to recognize any number of Eastern and West Coast unorganized waterfronts on strike clearances has been successfully concluded by the Eastern District of the I. S. U. at a meeting held on Monday, February 4th, 1937.

The letter, which was read and discussed and mete out before the meetings of the Eastern District of the I. S. U. has been sent to the Western District of the I. S. U. for consideration.

In view of these facts, we therefore declare that the I. S. U. will meet the situation on the Matson dock. We have always maintained that the membership voted to support the strike. We finally got tired of negotiating with the Matson management. We have always maintained that we would take action on the waterfront. Our intention is to organize the unorganized. We are going to take action on the waterfront. We are going to take action on the waterfront. We are going to take action on the waterfront.

The membership of the East and West Coast unorganized companies, as of Thursday, March 1st, has been increased by the addition of twenty-eight new members. These members have joined the I. S. U. because they are interested in the principles of industrial unionism, which they believe to be the only effective way of dealing with the situation on the waterfront. They believe that the principle of industrial unionism will result in better conditions and higher wages for all workers. They believe that the principle of industrial unionism will result in better conditions and higher wages for all workers. They believe that the principle of industrial unionism will result in better conditions and higher wages for all workers.

PHANTOM CASE

there are those who believe that there is no such thing as a yellow Cub out there on that square. How about the 1912 Dunn, as the Dean of the Orient, left our shores on Tuesday night. The current, which is no worse than usual, was the only reason why the former Dunn was allowed to enter the fleet. This is probably due to the fact that in Chinatown, the T.L. Union officers were not allowed to go in search of the missing person. However, if a warrant was served, the police would be on the scene. In this instance, the T.L. Union officials are not necessary. In any case, there is a warrant for the arrest of the alleged killer, and further charges may be filed at any time.

The Editorial Board once again at a Board meeting prior to its publication in the "Voice" of the Board present, they did not see anything objectionable in the writing of the Editorial and the Board felt that inaction of the Board was sufficient to testify to its disapproval of the Editorial.

Job Action Resolution Seem
As Solution of Strike

As a means of ending the recent series of outbreaks by seagoers, District Council No. 2, re-affirmed the Maritime Federation's job action policy at the meeting Tuesday night.

The resolutions had been tabled by a special committee composed of a delegate from each union to submit the resolutions to the Committee.

The job action resolution was approved by the General Executive Council which endorsed the resolution.

COMMITTEE ON JOB

In brief, the resolutions directed job action confined to a ship, dock, or warehouse, and provided that a committee of all maritime groups affected be formed on the job to consolidate action and prevent indiscriminate strikes.

The Committee decided on the current the economic conditions concerning the East Coast, and issued a call for the formation of a committee on the job to consolidate action.

John T. Young, delegate from the T.L. Union, reported that the T.L. Union had been in a flurry of activity over the East Coast, concerned about the situation on the job. They were planning to resume all work on the job.

By all means, all other delegates agreed to this policy.

C.I.O. was that it was a dual union and was trying to break the Teamsters' Union, which was determined to remain independent of the C.I.O. by the merger of the two organizations. At the time of the merger, the Teamsters' Union was a strong and well-organized union, with a membership of over 500,000. The C.I.O. was trying to take this membership away from the Teamsters' Union and make it a part of the C.I.O. organization.

The labor council, which was composed of the leaders of the different labor unions in the city, had called a meeting to discuss the merger. At the meeting, the Teamsters' Union was represented by its president, John L. Lewis. Lewis was a strong and determined union leader, who was determined to keep the Teamsters' Union independent of the C.I.O.

The Teamsters' Union decided to go ahead with the merger, and the C.I.O. began to take over the union's affairs. The Teamsters' Union was forced to give up its independence and become a part of the C.I.O. organization.

Bigger even than the phenomenal turnout for Pres. Roosevelt last fall was the demonstration against the Teamsters' Union, which is now a center of union organization in many crafts and industries. There were many incidents, but all the officials of the Teamsters' Union were all the officials of other crafts and industries who had been beaten and evicted.
