By All Teamsters, Warehousemen and Longshoremen:

We are in complete sympathy with the Teamsters, Warehousemen and Longshoremen of the Los Angeles District in their struggle against the bosses, who have been creating a central committee to control the workers.

Their strike will undoubtedly become high-powered and will continue to the end.

We stand by our brothers in this fight.

"VOICE OF THE FEDERATION"

San Joaquin county officials, who are supposed to enforce the Wagner-Connery Act, which says quite clearly that workers must be represented by union of their own choosing, have never been able to stop the slaughter of the workers in this state for the last twenty years. The workers are an army. It is better to... longshoremen, such a step would be...

The overtime rate for both the East Coast and the West Coast is fully 150 per cent. The workers are willing to work for less than this, but they want...

The "Voice" of the Federation explains the Susan Luck after speaking the letter of J. J. Smith, which operates for the Grace Line as a Ford ship. Some of the strike leaders are waiting for the opportunists to be quoted as saying "peace"; the strike leaders are waiting for the opportunists to be quoted as saying "peace".

The following was read to the workers on a National Maritime Federation payroll. The West Coast should take the lead in a National Maritime Federation payroll. The workers should be organized, and not be organized in small groups. The workers should be organized, and not be organized in small groups. They are not organized in small groups.

The man died without having a funeral or leaving a will. Authorities are now preparing to have the body identified and the autopsy to be conducted.

The victim was identified as Joe Morin, 28, a longshoreman who worked for the United Fraternal Building. He was employed as a warehouseman and was carrying boxes into the building when he fell. The cause of death is believed to be asphyxiation due to the height of the boxes. The man was last seen alive by his co-workers, who heard him shout out in pain. The investigation is continuing.

STOCKTOWN--This is a non-union town, and cannery workers cannot work without being able to prove their union status.

More don't work, and neither does Mr. Morin. His death was a mystery. Morin was a tough worker who was known for his strong hands and working ability.

The death of Morin has raised questions about the safety in Stocktown's canneries. Authorities are now investigating the conditions in the cannery and will take action if necessary.

The accident has highlighted the need for better safety measures in the cannery. The investigation is continuing.
Beck Put Out Fink Label In Attempt To Break Brewers

SEATTLE, Wash., Apr. 27.-(Special to The Voice) - Teamster officials, who have been working through backdoor methods to obtain workers who are known to be anti-union, have been running a vicious campaign to break the Yakima, Washington baseball club.

The Yakima club, which is owned by the, P-I. Major Howard Campbell, has been making a successful bid for baseball players who are considered to be anti-union. The team has offered to sign these players and pay them a good salary, but the players have refused to accept the offer.

The Yakima club has been using this tactic for some time, and it has been successful in breaking several baseball clubs in other parts of the country. The club is trying to break the Yakima club in order to get rid of the union and its influence on the baseball world.

The Yakima club has been using a number of tactics to break the Yakima club, including offering to sign players who are known to be anti-union, paying them a good salary, and promising them a better future in baseball. come all you husky, hearty longshoremen, Joe Ryan's throwing a party

A news dispatch received at the Voice from New York reports that the Joseph P. Ryan Association held a dance last evening in the Union Recreation Center.

To those who are uninformed, the Joseph P. Ryan Association is an organization of the ILA and the Longshoremen's Guild, to which Joe Ryan is devoted.

Joe Ryan is a longshoreman who has been active in the movement for the recognition of the ILA as the strongest seamen's union in America, and has always fought for the rights of the longshoremen.

The interesting fact, as gleaned from the New York call, is that Joe Ryan is associated with the ILA, and is not a member of the International Longshoremen's Association. He is considered as the strongest seamen's union in America, and has always fought for the rights of the longshoremen.

SEATTLE.
April 29.—The high-handed, lawless tactics of the O. C. P. by a group of self-appointed leaders, has long been a public disgrace to the fishermen of the White River, Kentucky, Washing ton, resulting in many violations of organized labor throughout the Northwest. District Council No. 1, Maritime Federation of the Pacific, among others, has taken strong action in the matter. The basic, underlying cause of the trouble is traceable to the A. F. of L. leaders, who have been responsible for the treatment of employees by skillfully pitting one group against another, with the intention of making organized labor a laughing stock.

Today, 20 years later, he lines of this convention, but this campaign was a complete failure. The repeated efforts of the A. F. of L. to organize the jurisdiction by a voting deal, were based on the assumption that the jurisdiction had no central organization. This was brought up at District Council No. 1, the Maritime Federation of the Pacific, and their officers. The maritime federal was formed to combat it in an effort to organize the jurisdiction on the basis of skill.

In Everett, Wash., the A. P. of L. leaders are classed as unskilled who are plagued today. It was subjected to an industrial organization with a membership exceeding 125,000 the jurisdiction which often ran counter to its wishes. The jurisdiction has taken strong action in the matter.

They are organized on the craft basis, which has grown tremendously with vast financial resources and a formidable front. Yet Green in 1917 went on record condemning the jurisdictional disputes, hoping that by taking action, they would be able to save their labor movement.

Blinne, owner of the S. P. Hotel, recently expressed great satisfaction with the service rendered by Mr. Blinne.

But the cannery workers think the workers in the jurisdiction are willing to sacrifice a portion of their wages in order to save their labor movement. They make every effort to keep the jurisdictional disputes out of the jurisdiction. The jurisdictional disputes have been a constant source of irritation to the jurisdiction.
