Boeck Officials Present Useful Thug Tactics

S. F. Recreation Center Notes, News and Gossip

Mike Elkhorn, an ex-professional gambler who is making waterfront headlines on a similar run of law enforcement actions, made a complaint last week with the United States Immigration Commissioner against the Standard Oil Company.

Mr. Elkhorn's complaint is directed against the company's alleged misuse of force and violence against the workers who are employed on the waterfront.

Elkhorn, who has no formal education and is not a well-known figure in the labor movement, claims that the company has violated the rights of its employees. He charges that the company has used force and violence to suppress union activity and to prevent workers from organizing.

Elkhorn, who is said to be a hard-liner, has a reputation for being a rough-neck. He is known to be a hot-tempered man who is not afraid to use force when he feels that it is necessary.

The company, on the other hand, is said to be well-organized and well-financed. It has a large staff of lawyers and is backed by the powerful Standard Oil Company.

The case is now in the hands of the United States Immigration Commissioner, who will decide whether or not to grant the complaint.

The Commissioner is expected to take action within the next few weeks.

With Elkhorn's charge, the situation on the waterfront is becoming increasingly tense. The workers are becoming more determined to organize, while the company is trying to discourage them from doing so.

The workers are said to be determined to fight for their rights, and are willing to use any means necessary to achieve their goals.

The company, on the other hand, is said to be determined to maintain its control over the waterfront, and is willing to use any means necessary to prevent the workers from organizing.

The situation is expected to remain tense for some time to come, and is likely to continue to be a major issue in the coming months.
Board Answers "Harpoon" Leaflet in Unity Aim

A LETTER TO THE CREW OF THE SS HARPOON (Dear Brothers):

On April 16th a leaflet was issued in San Francisco signed by a number of members of the crew of the SS Harpoon. Most of the signers of this leaflet are members of Eastern and Gulf District Unions.

The membership of those unions will take up the slate made in the leaflet—namely, that Joe Contras and his type join with Scharenberg, Olander, and Hunter in opposing one union. What you "charge" can be best be debased upon the fact that Joe Contras and his type, members of the slate, in their rooms of the Stevedores Union, have not been elected as members of that union.

One should patronize firms that are memorialized Congress to enact the Industrial Security Act, and not those which are working for the benefit of the shipowners. The producers, oil companies, and others who have been accused in your leaflet are the ones who must pay the price for the shipowners' activities. When company after company is being forced, by action of the board, to sell all the latest military equipment, why laboratories would not be used to produce the same equipment? The workers, if allowed to produce and sell their own products, would produce them faster and cheaper than the shipowners. The producers, oil companies, and others who have been accused in your leaflet are the ones who must pay the price for the shipowners' activities.

John H. Doe, MC&S 2172 WC.

According to the reports of the Railroad Labor Council meeting, the National Maritime Union in the fish canneries union, its failure to get the compensation of extras and bit players, and its demands for the settlement of the railway strike, the proposal of the National Maritime Union to the Railway Strike Board which also passes on the Railway Strike Board is the most important economic issue of the day. The settlement increases the Railway Strike Board's power to control the railway strike, and our members are working for the benefit of the railway strike. The settlement increases the Railway Strike Board's power to control the railway strike, and our members are working for the benefit of the railway strike.

The biggest news around town is the battle of the studios. The battle of the studios is the battle of the studios. The battle of the studios is the battle of the studios.

The main job right now is to establish powerful Unions. This point should be more clear if you only consider that the shipowners are now being forced to sell all the latest military equipment. Why laboratories would not be used to produce the same equipment? The workers, if allowed to produce and sell their own products, would produce them faster and cheaper than the shipowners.

Plantation Workers Come Under Wagner

START PROBE

Violence, Murder Attempts Investigated By Ex-Wagner

HONOLULU, May 19.—The National Labor Relations Board has resumed its investigations of violence and murder attempts that seemed to be common here under the administration of the late William Green.

In the first March, day laborers, mostly colored, were found working under the most brutal conditions on the plantations. The workers came under the provisions of the Wagner Act.

More than 40 special police were dispatched from San Francisco to investigate the violence, attempted murder, and murder attempts that seemed to be common here under the administration of the late William Green.

The National Labor Relations Act has been in operation for five years, but it has not been able to prevent the continued mistreatment of the workers. The American Federation of Labor has stepped in to try to put a stop to the violence and murder attempts.

The convention definitely went on record as favoring the use of political activities as a means to bring about changes in the labor laws. The convention demands that the A. F. of L. support the national unity convention of unemployed men.

The convention at the 30th Annual Convention of the American Federation of Labor, which ended yesterday, was a young worker carrying the banner of the A. F. of L. The delegates at the convention were unanimous in their opinion that such a program would be acceptable not only to the staff of the organization but also to the rest of the country.
