MFP DEMANDS WAR BONUS, BENEFITS IN DANGER ZONES

Unions Meeting With Shipowners

Seizing upon this week's meeting with the shipowners to push for a war bonus to the Seagoing unions this week prepared to meet with the shipowners today and the Cooks and Stewards are expected to have their first meeting late this week.

The Committee made the following announcement:

"The Committee found it was very important to the workers and was not given the opportunity to meet with the shipowners what were the demands that would be submitted to the shipowners would be covered in the meeting.

"The Committee made it very clear to Dr. Bloch that it could not give any preference to the workers.

"The Committee found that the only way to get the demands made were through legal means and by establishing arbitrations in all areas.

"The Committee was informed by the shipowners that they would submit all the demands by the workers and that they would be submitted to the arbitrators for settlement.

"No settlement was reached by the Committee and the workers are now seeking an advantage by the Maritime Federation of the Pacific.

It was a real Labor Day in San Francisco. Fifty thousand citizens jambbed the Plaza at Civic Center, other thousands lined Market Street to watch the 30,000 maritime federation, CIO and AFL men march by. Symbolic of the unity of the day were the speakers: AFL Central Labor Council President Jack Shelley, CIO Director Harry Bridges, Governor Culbert L. Olson, Ham and Eggers. Workers Alliance, cooperatives, youth and others were represented in the big parade. Above: Bridges leads the longshoremen: Island Boatmen carry their banners: Bridges sits with Governor Olson.

Labor Looks For Sign of War Gag

Maritime union leaders this week fought for war protection for seamen and prepared to keep a watchful eye on the rising tide of American nationalism dangerous to labor by keeping a close watch on the Union Labor Bureau for signs of war.
U.S. LABOR LEADERS IN PLEA FOR CO-OPERATION

Green, Lewis Speak

Co-operation in solving the problems of a difficult and unprecedented business stagnation and unemployment was the keynote of the annual Labor Day address by the nation's leading labor leaders. The address, read by Mr. Lewis, Marshal of the American Federation of Labor, was delivered to a capacity audience of 10,000 workers, yesterday afternoon, in the Continental of Miner's Hall, Home of the United Mine Workers of America, the second largest labor union in the country.

Mr. Lewis began his address by referring to the report of the President's Commission on Labor-Management Relations, recently presented to the President. Speaking of the report, he said:

"This is a very remarkable document, and we are deeply impressed by its wisdom and its soundness. It is sure to accomplish something great, and we are prepared to accept it as a guide to our future actions."

Mr. Lewis went on to say that the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations were determined to work with the President and the government to achieve the aims of the report. He concluded his address by appealing to all workers to continue to cooperate in the rebuilding of the nation's economy, and to refuse to be used by the bosses as scapegoats for the country's problems.

Employers Seek Vigilantes

In a letter to the editor of the Voice, the editor of the Voice, Mr. Smith, stated that the employers were seeking to create a climate of fear and intimidation among the workers in order to keep them from organizing and demanding better wages and working conditions. He said that the employers were using the threat of violence and the prospect of job loss as a means of suppressing the workers' rights.

Mr. Smith urged the workers to resist this intimidation and to stand firm in their demands for fair treatment. He said that the employers had no right to use fear and violence as a means of controlling the workers.

30,000 March In Labor Day Parade

On Labor Day, the workers of San Francisco and the surrounding area came together to celebrate their hard work and dedication. The parade was a vibrant display of the workers' power and unity, with thousands of people marching down the streets with banners and flags.

The parade began at 10:00 a.m. with a procession of floats and marching bands. The floats featured images of workers and their struggles, while the bands played music to celebrate the workers' achievements.

As the parade moved through the streets, the workers chanted slogans and held signs that read "Workers of the World Unite!" and "Fair Wages for All!

The parade was a powerful demonstration of the workers' strength and determination, and a reminder of the importance of their contributions to society.

For S. F. Mayor Havener In Race

SAN FRANCISCO—Frank Havener, progressive FIANC, who was defeated in the last election for the Mayor of San Francisco, is running again for the office.

Mr. Havener has been a strong advocate of workers' rights and has fought for the protection of the city's workers. He has been a critic of the corruption that exists in the city's political system, and has called for greater transparency and accountability in city government.

Mr. Havener is running on a platform that includes proposals to strengthen workers' rights, reduce corruption, and increase transparency in city government.

Mr. Havener's campaign has been supported by a number of labor unions and community groups, who see him as a candidate who will stand up for the workers and the working class.

Mr. Havener is facing a tough challenge from the incumbent Mayor, who has the backing of the city's business elite. However, Mr. Havener is determined to win the election and to do what is necessary to make San Francisco a fairer and more just city for all its citizens.

The President Says

By H. B. McGRATII

President of the ILWU

The facts are these: In November, 1938, a demobilization agreement was signed by the Labor Department and 19 employers in this shipyard area. The agreement provided for a wage increase of $2 per week, and a guarantee of employment for the duration of the war. Under the terms of this agreement, the employees have been working under the same conditions as before the war.

The United States government has been carrying on its daily business with the same efficiency as ever. The men have been working just as hard as ever, and the goods have been produced just as efficiently as ever. The only difference is that the men are working for nothing.

The wage increase was $2 per week. This was a small amount, but it was enough to make a difference in the living conditions of the men. The employers have been paying the cost of living for the employees, and the government has been paying the cost of goods for the employees.

The agreement provided for a wage increase of $2 per week, and a guarantee of employment for the duration of the war. Under the terms of this agreement, the employees have been working under the same conditions as before the war.

Editor, Voice of the Federation:

The appearance of Ferguson at the Dies Committee and the attitude of the Dies Committee in the press and in the public is an ominous sign. It seems clear that the Dies Committee is seeking to discredit the work of the Federation. The Dies Committee is seeking to discredit the work of the Federation.
Headquarter's Notes

Meeting convened at the usual time, with Joe Golden in the chair. R. Lane taking the chair of handling the pencil or recording secretary.

Today, the committee won a substantial amount of money, as the door prizes turned out to be a substantial amount of money. The committee also won a substantial amount of money, as the door prizes turned out to be a substantial amount of money.

Thursday started off the week, with forty-five jobs up. One of the best was a run to the east coast, with three combiners as yet held with the junior engineer, an electrician, Hannify, an oiler, and two firemen, Hauraki. The San Rafael took an oiler and two firemen, Director, and one wiper. The Oklahoman took a fireman, the Oklahoman took a wiper.

"REMEMBER..."
PORTLAND—Labor history was made today in Portland.

For the second time in 21 years (1918 in fact) there was a real Labor Day parade, this time headed by the banner of the Maritime Federation of the Pacific, and following representatives from every labor union in Multnomah County—men, women, children, union presidents, managers,佣金, and every labor organization.

The banner was at the head of the parade, and was made to represent the banner of the Maritime Federation of the Pacific, as is evidenced by the following inscription:

"Aleutian Islands No. 5, ILWU, Portland, Oregon."

The banner was 40 feet long, 16 feet in height, and of heavy canvas.

Richard H. W. & M. Co. 1 & 2

At the request of the M. C. O. W. & M. Co. 1 & 2, the banner was turned over to John L. Lewis and was used by the Maritime Federation of the Pacific.

This group "stole the show" in the parade and really marched in its Labor Section parade. Splendid unity is seen in Ow lower view, with AFL, industrial, and success of the Maritime Federation. The council instructed the ILWU District No. 5 to assist the Boomen in their longshoremen. Incidentally the Parade was over—after 4,500
