Lockout Story
Told To All Monterey

Monterey—The United Fishermen's Union of the Pacific Coast, on May 17, 1939, told the workers at the canneries in Monterey, the California, that they were going to the court for a decision on the lockout of 150 of their union members in Monterey last week.

When the 1938 fishing season closed there was an immediate desire among the canners to establish one Union — United Fishermen's Union — and to have some one else than boat owners take any place in dictating the conditions of the fishermen.

At that time, the canners didn't like this. But they had no power to stop it. Nor did they have the money to act on this end. They were completely under their domina-

Insurers for seamen.

The SMCU has struck some twenty ships on the East Coast in an effort to obtain adequate protection for seamen sailing into war zone. While conducting negotiations with the strippers, at the eleventh hour, the Atlantic Lines informed the SMCU that it was discontinuing the payments of the $2 daily war risk premium, limiting an inadequate war loss protection and war risk insurance. This was done despite the fact that they have consistently refused to negotiate further or attempt to provide adequate protection for American seamen.

We demand to know if the National Maritime Commission has heard of the strike or the strippers' problems. The American Seamen's Industrial War Board and the SMCU have requested the support of President Roosevelt.

However, the New York Times has stated that this is not for the type of program that the National Maritime Commission is asking the United States to undertake. The NMC has stated that the United States would not be able to carry out its plan to the extent of the United States, petroleum, and coal that they have been promised. The New York Times has stated that this is a misunderstanding of the program. The NMC has stated that the United States does not have enough money to carry out its plan to the extent of the United States, petroleum, and coal that they have been promised.

The statement attributed to Attorney General Frank Murphy to the effect that the NMC has the power to sign a contract with the strippers and that they must be willing to accept the strippers' demands is not correct. The NMC has stated that the strippers' demands are too high and that they cannot be met. The NMC has stated that the strippers' demands are too high and that they cannot be met.

The first duty of the administration in these trying times is to preserve a strong United States naval fleet. If the United States is unable to preserve a strong United States naval fleet, the United States will not be able to preserve a strong United States naval fleet. The United States is not capable of preserving a strong United States naval fleet. The United States is not capable of preserving a strong United States naval fleet.

Program For Peace

While TORY SENATORS and Congressmen differ in their views on the war, they all agree that the United States must do its part to bring about peace. The United States must do its part to bring about peace. The United States must do its part to bring about peace.

PORTLAND—The World Federation of Trade Unions this week met in a half-hour discussion at the Portland Republican Council, and after the discussion the general opinion seemed to boil down to these points:

1. The new war is an imperialist war.

2. Labor has no stake in it. It is for the monopolies and the war-gangers.

3. A new world struggle for freedom must be necessary if America is going to have any peace.

4. The war is not going to be won by the average worker, but will be won by the capital and the war-gangers.

5. The war is not an imperialist war that we don't want. It is an imperialist war that is going to be fought by us.

6. This is different from the war of 1914-18. This is a war of the government to get in the war and to go on to the war. It is not a war of the government to go on to the war, but it is a war of the government to get in the war and to go on to the war.

7. The war is not coming to an end, but is going to be a long war. It is going to be a long war, and it is going to be a long war.

8. The war is not going to be won by the average worker, but will be won by the capital and the war-gangers.
