Tacoma Hearing

Testimony Given

SAILPORT—Heated testimony and debate have marked the past week's sessions of the national labor relations board hearing which is being held to determine whether the proposed lease would be beneficial to the Pacific Coast longshoremen.

The union officials have taken the position that they are for this and I am told they often work in the same company as a group. They have been engaged in this kind of work since the war. The lease, if approved, would mean a big increase in the size of the longshoremen's union. The union officials have also stated that they are opposed to the lease, saying that it would plunge this country into dictatorship.

The officers of the union have said that the lease would be a violation of the rights of the longshoremen. They have been working on the immigration bill which was passed by Congress last year. They have also been working on the international labor relations board which was established under the war department.

The federal government has been trying to establish a coastwise labor relations board to settle disputes between the longshoremen and the shipowners. The union has been trying to have the coastwise labor relations board established under the labor department, saying that it would be a better way to settle disputes.

Longshore Vote In Honolulu

SAN FRANCISCO—A labor board election was held on the west side of Honolulu, at the federal building. About 500 Matson longshoremen voted for Wednesday, with the result that the ILWU won a narrow victory.

Others were to vote immediately following the Honolulu vote. The two unions were to vote for early in March, but the second vote did not come immediately due to illness of labor board officials.

Harry Bridges plans to say in Hawaii, it was announced by odp. It was said by H. O. Kawaun, president of ILWU, Honolulu longshore local, who HANAPPE, Kauai (Hawaiian Islands)—A proposal for settlement of the six-month strike and lockout of 250 longshoremen in the ports of Port Allen and Lahaina, made by Federal mediator H. E. Durham, was turned down by the two unions.

The ILWU was assigned the case by the United States Department of Labor. A union proposal of arbitration was also turned down.

Hail Fishermen's Dance in Pedro

SAN PEDRO—San Pedro fishermen are looking ahead to the last full moon of the month, which falls on Feb. 18, in the hopes that it will bring a profitable season. The Saturday and Sunday dances are sponsored by the United Fishermen's Union, here called the SIWU, which represents the local fishermen.

A meeting of the SIWU was held recently by the Shakopee Indians on tribal land, and a new union camp was opened for the fishermen. The SIWU is a cooperative organization of fishermen, and its main purpose is to increase the income of its members. On Feb. 18, the fishermen will celebrate the last full moon of the month with a dance and other festivities.

IWA

In Support To Paper

WASHINGTON—The Center McGovern sub-locals of the IWA in the Seattle area are conducting a campaign to support their local and the IWA's national convention being held this week. The campaign is aimed at increasing membership and support for the IWA.

The national convention is being held in Seattle from February 14th to 18th. It is expected to be a major event, with delegates from all parts of the country attending. The convention will address issues such as wages, working conditions, and the fight against the CIO and other labor organizations.

Report of

NMU in Frisco

By E. B. WILLIAMS

SAN FRANCISCO—All NMU members of the standards department are requested to note in their co-operative report to the chairmen of the United Fishermen's Union, which represents the fishermen of Alaska, that the NMU has given its support to the fishermen's strike.

The NMU is a labor organization representing the fishermen of Alaska. It is an affiliate of the CIO, which represents the fishermen of the United States.

The NMU has been involved in a dispute with the U.S. government over the regulation of the salmon fishery in Alaska. The NMU has been demanding the right to negotiate with the government over the regulation of the fishery, but the government has refused to grant this right.

The NMU has called for a strike of the fishermen in Alaska to protest the government's refusal to grant the NMU's demands.

The NMU has been supported by the CIO, which has given its support to the NMU's demands.

The NMU's strike is expected to have a significant impact on the salmon fishery in Alaska. The salmon fishery is one of the most important industries in Alaska, and a strike by the fishermen would have a major effect on the economy of the state.

The NMU's strike is expected to last for several weeks, and the government is expected to make concessions to the NMU in order to end the strike.
Power to Knudsen
Former General Motors Heads Call For 7-Day Week
By LABOR NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE
WASHINGTON, D.C. — The one most significant fact about the revised national defense, as delivered yesterday before the President, was the power of William Knudsen, former General Motors Corp. head. In the new fact-out trend, Knudsen, who oversaw the vast General Motors' assembly lines, has already shown his skills on the early session of the Senate committee. He was the one who brought to the White House the report of the new program. In the early session of the Senate committee, he was the one who made the proposal to Congress. In the early session of the Senate committee, he was the one who brought to the White House the report of the new program. In the early session of the Senate committee, he was the one who brought to the White House the report of the new program.

There's a lot of hubbub and pablum about "national defense" in these days, and the President's program asumes a full destructive effect on the people. It surrounds it with a barrage of smoke about "defending the country." Just as in Fuerre, where the rich employers bulldozed the rallied to his name of "national defense," so in Washington powerful figures are attacking labor and civil rights in the same way.

The legislative agenda taken up by the President in the House and Senate was discriminatory legislation, followed by the appointment of a "national defense" committee. It is the same kind of legislation that national defense means the welfare of the people as well as the manufacturer of bullets and guns.

What Do Seamen Have To Do About the Income Tax

Single Men With $800 Income Pay to Uncle Sam

San Francisco—More warnings for the seaman who makes over $800 a year were issued here this week.

The tax collector is sending out many notices to seamen, who believe that their duties are not covered under the federal income tax law. Some of the notices have been sent to seamen who are not even in the service, and many of them say the tax laws are all right.

There have been a few cases reported where seamen have actually paid taxes on their incomes, but the seamen believe that their work is not subject to this tax.

The notices are based on the theory that seamen are in the shipping business for a short time, and that their income is not continuous. However, seamen who have been in the service for more than six months are subject to the income tax law.

This week the seamen in the ship's union have been warning their members not to pay any taxes on their incomes, and many of them have been reported as not paying the tax.

The union is planning to invest the money collected by the tax collector in the form of life insurance.

A Billion Dollar Program

Shipyards Are On War Footing

San Francisco—The government is pouring millions of dollars into the shipbuilding industry in the bay area.

This year the government has already paid out $125,000,000 for the construction of new ships, and it is expected to spend another $175,000,000 during the year.

In addition, the government is spending large sums for the overhaul and repair of existing ships, and for the construction of new dry docks and repair facilities.

The government is also spending millions of dollars for the purchase of new equipment, including power plants, and for the training of new workers.

The trend is upward, and it is expected that the government will continue to spend heavily for the construction and repair of ships.

O'Leary Resolution

To War Zone Or Look for a Job

San Francisco—The resolution of Representative O'Leary, which calls for a job in the war zone for all seamen, was passed by the House of Representatives yesterday.

The resolution is based on the theory that seamen are entitled to a living wage, and that they should be given a chance to work in the war zone.

It was also stated in the resolution that seamen should be given a chance to work in the war zone, and that they should be paid a living wage.

The resolution was passed by a vote of 220 to 150.

O'Leary's resolution is expected to have a great influence on the government's policy toward seamen.

The government has been under pressure to do something for seamen, and this resolution is sure to be a step in the right direction.
