Expelled Labor Spies, Dies' Aides On Witness Stand Against Bridges

Sensational Affidavit In Webster-Smallman Case

By E. E. WARD

LOS ANGELES—Affidavit of a junior woman in the Webster-Smithman trial that participation in the second tier under cover activities was under personal conviction that the defendants were innocent, caused a court sensation April 24, when a motion for a new trial was argued.

Mrs. Glenn's affidavit declares the decedent Riley at said time and place had no knowledge of any such activities and that his personal conviction were to that effect.

The affidavit was filed in the new Bridges defense fund, and the case before us fits both, and of the powerful 5,000 strong defense lawyers, who have been working in the case.

In doing whatever they did, and not allow her conscience to be their guide. The case before us fits both, and of the powerful 5,000 strong defense lawyers, who have been working in the case.

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP) — After months of negotiation, the California State Industrial Union on Thursday night broke the strike at the American Cyanamid Co. here by refusing to accept the company's final offer.

The union, represented by W. M. Schilling, president, had given the company a 30-day ultimatum to settle the dispute, which began last month over a dispute between the company and the union over the question of whether the company was violating the provisions of the National Labor Relations Act.

A spokesman for the union said that the company had not made any offers to settle the dispute.

The union's offer included a 10% increase in wages, a 10% raise in the minimum wage, and the elimination of a 3% productivity bonus.

Urges MFWO to Fight Against War

SACRAMENTO.

Editor of the VOICE:

We have been requested to the San Pedro branch of the MFWO last week on his trip through the state. We are particularly interested in the work being done in the Sacramento branch.

He told of the apparent willingness of the workers to fight against war and the determination of the MFWO to place their membership in the forefront of the anti-war movement.

While speaking of this re- quest, he emphasized the necessity of the workers to fight for peace. He said that the war is a campaign of destruction, and that the workers must be the ones to fight for peace.

The workers were particularly interested in the statement that the war is a campaign of destruction, and that the workers must be the ones to fight for peace. The workers were particularly interested in the statement that the war is a campaign of destruction, and that the workers must be the ones to fight for peace.

This statement was particularly interesting to the workers, who are well aware of the destruction caused by previous wars. The workers are determined to prevent any future wars, and to fight for peace.

We are greatly interested in the work being done in the Sacramento branch of the MFWO, and we are confident that the workers will continue to fight against war and to work for peace.

Very truly yours,
