Special CIO Conference Brings Results!

WASHINGTON, D. C.—First results of the vigorous organizing work that has been put on in the national CIO and Labor's Non-Partisan League to erode the power of the N.A.T.O. and the National Federation of Labor were seen at the CIO labor conference held last week when the house of representatives defeated the CIO-labor housing bill which formed the draft act.

At the same time Amendment 82, which would have granted an unprecedented increase in the power of the N.A.T.O., was also defeated by a margin in the house. This amendment was introduced by the CIO as a means of securing a Cordell Hartley nomination. The amendment was defeated by a margin of 111-251. The committee report recommended that the CIO-labor housing bill be dropped from the consideration of the house of representatives.

The conference also endorsed the idea of organizing a national CIO conference in Cleveland to study the problems of the CIO and to develop a national CIO program.

He is critically ill and needs constant medical attention. He is in the hospital for a short time and will be discharged in a few days.

The committee is in need of funds to pay for his medical expenses and to keep him in the hospital for a longer time.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The following are important excerpts of a speech made by John T. McCormack, representative of Massachusetts, to the House of Representatives, in the critical legislative situation developed in the House and Senate in the fight for labor and defense. McCormack, in the course of his remarks, elaborated on certain questions of vital import to the war effort of the country.

In his hour of representation, the House afforded the only opportunity for direct and immediate action, and the opportunity was wasted, as he said, by the failure of the House to act.

In previous hearings before the House, labor and defense issues have been raised in the chamber. The House has been repeatedly asked to make a decision on these issues, and the House has repeatedly failed to act.

The war effort of the country is at stake, as McCormack pointed out, and the House has failed to act. The House has failed to act in the face of a clear and present danger to the country.

Seattle Warehousemen In Wage Increase Demands

SEATTLE—Warehouse local 1-9 of the CIO International Longshoremen's & Warehousemen's Union is at present negotiating with the milling industry in the city of Seattle, Chas. "Red" Eisenberg, Mgr. for the漲 wage increases. The union has requested a 10c per hour increase in wages for all employees, and a job and company transfer agreement, the union representing that the companies are buying their hands off the ports, and seeking to lock out workers. The companies are operating a labor shortage in the port, and the union is demanding that the companies return to work, and it is demanding that the companies return to work.

A resolution covering the grievances of the workers in the port, which was adopted at the regular meeting of the local, was adopted July 5, 1941. The resolution states that the workers are seeking to improve their working conditions.

The union is demanding that the workers be allowed to work only in the port, and that the employers be forced to return to work.

BR. ROSCO G. CRAYCRAFT

SEATTLE—Since the report labor leaders held elections held in Tacoma, Port Angeles, and Anacortes, I have had occasion to visit numerous ports in the Northwest.

Seattle, Port Angeles, and Anacortes have been rocked by the election of BR. Rosco G. Craycraft, ILWU International Vice President, by a solid margin. These three ports represent the entire Northwest and will be in a position to influence the elections held in other parts of the country.

BR. Rosco is a strong leader and his election will be a great relief to the ILWU and its members in the Northwest.

Progress Reported From Cleveland

A S THIS is written it is still too early to estimate all the practical results of the national seamen’s union convention of the International Maritime Union in Cleveland. But reports so far are highly encouraging for the future welfare of the seamen. S. E. Brown, the hard-working, business-like determined and experienced union leader, has made it clear that the seamen want and they want a program to come out of the convention that will mean real national unity. Already, 75,000 of the 700,000 seamen in this country are members of the United Brotherhood of Seamen. And as a result of the convention, there is bound to be a real drive all the way around.

A lot of the new practice is that all the seamen pull together toward a common goal—and the goal is simple enough these days—more wages, better conditions, better hours, more organization. That’s what industrial unionism means—an injury to one is an injury to all, regardless of craft. It brings results, and that’s what counts.

On Mass Meetings of Workers in Russia

ONE of the most interesting bits of information to come out of Moscow, Russia, recently is the new development that started when the Soviet Union was invaded by the Nazis the first thing the government did was to call mass meetings of workers all over the country. According to the regular Associated Press and United Press dispatches received by agents working on every farm throughout that vast country, were called together for discussion and action.

Resolutions vowing to the total destruction of Hitler and his associates were adopted by the workers. At one of these meetings, the following resolution was passed:

"To American men and women, though, the interesting thing is, how will the official Russia react when it gets in trouble (that is, when it was invaded by the Nazis)—was to do exactly what every democratic American union does when it gets in trouble—fight for freedom.

The first thing the workers would do would be to elect a chairman, and then do as he instructs. The next thing there, which would be pretty bad news for the Nazis, would be a call for a crusade against Bolshevism. It’s a circus and not an indication of a new mentality, or preserving anything else, either. As American unions might have done, our government.

There’s only one thing he’s after, and that is Soviet oil and reliable shipping material. One of the things he would destroy first, should he defeat the Grand Alliance, would be our oil. Now we can’t afford to discuss issues as the war and he and his kind would destroy that right in this country, too—if we ever let them get their hands on it. Readers of the VOICE should be pretty cagy on this question.

"Nazi’s Are Main Menace to America"

NEW YORK—Hitler’s attack upon Russia has speeded up the growth of the Communist party. The early reports from Moscow, although not practically complete, show that there is a heavy upsurge of Communist propaganda there. Comrade Stalin has been sending a heavy stream of overtures to the United States, not only in behalf of his own extension and expansion, but in the hope of influencing the American workers and youth to join in the fight against the Nazi-Fascist oppressors.

I was told last week that the Talmud has more than one chapter in which the words, "let him be a man who acts like a man," are spoken of. By doing so, they mean by a man who acts like a man, not by a man who acts like a woman, or a man who acts like a woman.

However, if this is the case, then we must all be sure that we are acting like men.

The Talmud says that the word, "let him be a man who acts like a man," is spoken of in a chapter in which the words, "let him be a man who acts like a man," are also spoken of.

Those who act like men are the best men. Those who act like women are not men. Those who act like men are the best men.

American Flow of Oil to Japan Unabated

SAN FRANCISCO—According to the latest reports, the flow of shipments of oil to Japan has continued without apparent interruption from this source.

Despite the U. S. government's efforts to help not only Great Britain and China but also the Allied nations in their struggle against Germany, the Japanese continue to purchase oil from the United States. The United States has been supplying Japan with oil since 1940, when the Japanese war began.

New shipping figures show that the United States has shipped a total of 5 million tons of oil to Japan since the start of the war. This is equivalent to approximately 20% of the total oil produced in the United States.

The oil shipments to Japan are made up of a variety of grades, including kerosene, gasoline, and diesel fuel. The United States has been able to meet Japan's demand for oil by using its own refining capacity and by importing oil from other countries.

Despite the United States being a major oil producer, it has been unable to completely halt the shipment of oil to Japan. However, the reduction in oil shipments to Japan has been a significant factor in the overall reduction of oil production in the United States.

The continued shipment of oil to Japan has been controversial, with some arguing that it is helping to sustain Japan's military efforts and prolonging the war. Others argue that it is necessary to meet the needs of the Allies and prevent a potential oil shortage in the United States.

Regardless of the controversy, the United States continues to supply Japan with oil, highlighting the complex global nature of the oil market and the challenges faced by countries in balancing their economic interests with the need to support their allies.
